MARYSVILLE HOLDUP NETS BANDITS $2,014

Pair Lock Assistant Secretary of Loan Company in Vault.

WOMAN ON DUTY ALONE

Secretary Discovers Holdup Half Hour After Men Escape with Loot.

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE, O., June 3—Two bandits held up the Citizens Home & Savings Co. at noon today and escaped with $2,014 after locking the assistant secretary in the vault.

The men had escaped half an hour before the holdup was discovered by Reed Neer, secretary, when he returned from lunch. Authorities have only Mrs. McCloud's description to guide them in a search for the men.

Mrs. McCloud was alone when the first of the two men entered. He engaged her attention while the other, following him into the building, worked his way behind the counter where he threatened her with a gun and forced her into the vault.

Neer estimated the men took $2,014 from the counter and drawers under the counter. The loss was covered by insurance.

It was the first holdup of a financial institution in the history of Marysville. The institution, located at 122 east Fifth street, has been organized 40 years.

CONFERENCE STIRRED UP BY RITCHIE SPEECH

Criticizes Governors, Saying They Avoid Important Subjects.

By The Associated Press

FRENCH LICK, Ind., June 3—Criticizing the annual governors conference for its policy of avoiding controversial subjects, Governor Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland took control of the closing session here late yesterday to advocate return of liquor control to the states as a solution of taxation problems.

The Maryland executive, presiding at the final discussion meeting, said were this done, the system of excise taxes which may again be built up might do away altogether with federal income taxes and "at one stroke relieve capital, labor and agriculture from the tax problems which rest so heavily upon them."

Of economic conditions, Governor Ritchie said: "You cannot have from five to eight million people wanting work and unable to get it without knowing that this constitutes a challenge to our social order and that it is the strongest argument for communism unless it is solved."

Pinchot Changes Subject

His departure from the conference agenda followed that of Governor Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania, who refused the assigned subject of reforestation, and attacked public utilities, charging that electric power interests are "milking the public" of an estimated half billion dollars a year through overcharges.

Governor Pinchot left French Lick last night before receipt of a telegram in which Samuel M. Vauclain, chairman of the Baldwin Locomotive works board, accused him of misrepresenting conditions in Pennsylvania.

Governor Ritchie, complaining that the conference refrains "from debating those questions which are the realities of our national life," told the governors that "if any one thing is clear, it is that our people are becoming tired of the old conjure words in American politics, and are concerned instead about getting or keeping their jobs."

"This is the fundamental economic question in America. It means far more to the people than any subject, or than all the subjects we could possibly discuss."

BANK REPORT ENCOURAGING

AUTO PRODUCTION UP

Department Store Sales Seen as One of Most Hopeful Developments.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., June 3—Evidence that ailing business has recovered a lot of its former vigor since the coming of spring was given today in the monthly survey by the Cleveland federal reserve bank. The survey covered Ohio, western Pennsylvania, West Virginia and eastern Kentucky.

Automobile production in the United States, a powerful factor in many lines of Ohio industry, gained 21.5 per cent in April and apparently held all of its advance in May. In Cleveland the steel industry advanced to 59 per cent capacity from 56 per cent. Youngstown mills lacking railroad and pipe line orders, but aided by automotive and structural demands, eased off one point to 12 per cent.

Rubber tire factories made good gains earlier in the year and since then have continued operations practically unchanged.

MAYOR AGAIN VETOES LANDING FIELD PLAN

"Too Much Money for Tract," Council Told as Ordinance Is Returned.

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, June 3—For the second time within the last six months Mayor Arthur Schuler vetoed legislation providing for the purchase of a municipal airport.

He returned to the city council Tuesday night the unapproved ordinance unanimously adopted by the council at its last regular meeting directing Service Director Clarence Kober to purchase from Peter Metzger the 64-acre tract of land now known as Port Bucyrus.

In a statement, Schuler said he was of the opinion that his action was in line with the opinion of the greater number of taxpayers of the city and in the best interests of the citizenship of the city.

That the price of the site is in excess of its real value was pointed out by the mayor who submitted figures of appraisers of the county appointed by the county auditor showing the value of the land at less than half the price asked in the sale.

In adopting the second ordinance two weeks ago the council acted upon a popular mandate at the November 1929 election when a $40,000 bond issue was approved for the purchase and equipment of a municipal airport. Bonds in the sum of $15,000 have already been sold for the purpose.

The site under consideration is now under operation as a private port under the management of Miss Lauretta Schimmoler who recently completed the construction of a new steel hangar.

Bettman Issues Ruling on Children's Home Wards

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 3—In an opinion today to Richland County Prosecutor G. E. Kalbfleisch of Mansfield, Attorney General Gilbert Bettman held that the trustees of a children's home are not authorized to dismiss a child from a home after it has reached 18 years, but must permit the child to remain until he is 21 even though he has not been placed in a permanent home and is not able to provide for his own maintenance.

AUTO FEE BILL IS VOTED OUT FOR PASSAGE

House Committee Acts Favorably on Measure Increasing License Charge.

ONE POINT UNDECIDED

Bettman Ruling Needed; Fight on Intangibles Tax Due Tomorrow.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 3—The house taxation committee of the Ohio general assembly, by a vote of 13 to 8, today recommended for passage the bill increasing license fees on automobiles and trucks, on condition that the attorney general holds the temporary allocation section constitutional. Thirteen votes were needed to report the bill out.

The section whose validity was questioned during committee hearings is that apportioning to county and township general funds during the next two years an amount equal to what these funds lose by removing motor vehicles and other personal property from the general duplicate.

While this method of allocation is only a temporary scheme to assure the counties and townships the operating funds which they had in the past until the actual result of the new tax code is ascertained, officials of the Good Roads Federation declared it cannot legally be put in force. They contended that all moneys derived from license fees must be spent exclusively for roads. An opinion from Attorney General Gilbert Bettman will be sought at the earliest moment.

No Change in Rates

The conditional approval of the house committee was given without any change in the increased rates although attempts were made to lower them. The rates are $7 up to 25 horsepower, $10 up to 28 horsepower, $15 up to 32 horsepower and $25 over 36 horsepower.

Minority members of the tax committee who opposed the recommendation yesterday of the classified intangibles bill voted today against the automobile bill. The two measures, combined are the basic revenue producing bills to reimburse the local subdivisions for tax losses incurred by repeal of the uniform rule.

Fight Anticipated

A fight on the floor of the house against the classified intangibles tax bill will open tomorrow morning when the measure comes up for a vote.

Unless the unexpected happens the bill will not get through the lower branch as easily as it passed the senate last week although the house voted yesterday against the alteration of its rules to permit unlimited debate.

Eight members of the house tax committee who voted in the negative when the committee reported the bill out with but a single vote to spare, submitted a minority report last night. At the same time the regular committee report was presented and the measure was made a special order of business for tomorrow.

Seven Points of Opposition

The minority gave seven reasons why the bill should not be passed and asked the house to table it. Instead the members tabled the minority report.

Among the reasons were charges that the bill gives no relief to real estate owners, that it discriminates against individuals and unjustly favors corporations; that the system it sets up is unworkable; that it will produce less revenue than the laws it repeals, and that it erroneously shields the tax returns of the wealthy.

Five Republicans and three Democrats signed the minority report. The Republicans were Carl D. Sheppard of Akron, B. L. Cressy of Ashtabula county, O. W. Whitney of Delaware county, Oliver S. Nelson of Fayette county, and L. R. Bostwick of Madison county. The Democrats were: Oakley D. Spaght and O. W. Baum of Summit county and O. E. Brenneman of Morrow county.

2 RESOLUTIONS ASK UNIVERSITY PROBES

Miller Ouster Brings Requests for Business Investigation at Ohio State.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 3—Two controversies at Ohio State university were before the Ohio legislature today.

One, introduced by Representative Julian H. Schweller, Democrat of Putnam county asks the appointment of a committee to investigate administration of business affairs of the university by the board of trustees.

The other, submitted by Representative Martin E. Blum, Republican of Cleveland, seeks an inquiry into the circumstances leading to the failure of the board of trustees to renew the contract of Professor Herbert A. Miller, internationally known sociologist.

Schweller declared the propriety of some of the business transactions at the university were open to question "because of the connection one or more members of the board have with certain companies and corporations" having contracts with the board. He said there was need for a better and more economical administration.

Not Wanted in France, Tex and Troupe Sail for Home

By The Associated Press

HAVRE, France, June 3—Texas Guinan and her dancing "gang" sailed as first class passengers for New York today on the liner Paris at the expense of the line.

"Broadway here we come," they called as the liner headed out to sea.

The troupe was conveyed to the pier in two French line busses. Miss Guinan, accompanied by her manager, John Stein, made a brief visit to the offices of the line and joined the party at the pier by taxi.

They were all in good spirits, shouting they will be inviting us back. The American hostess, wearing a velvet riding habit, black patent leather boots and a white beret, boarded the boat amid cheers.

Texas Guinan had a heated argument with her European manager, William Edelston, before embarking, saying that her failure to enter the country was due to "poor management."

Harry Aslett, the Londoner who proposed marriage to Miss Guinan, with the understanding that she could enter England as his wife and then divorce him, arrived this morning from Plymouth to press the case. She was too preoccupied with sailing arrangements to give him much attention, but she said she'd stick around three days, may be something doing yet. He hovered unnoticed in the background as the entertainers went aboard through a crowd of curious persons.

Candidate Held for Murder but Polls Big Vote

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, Calif., June 3—While he was being bound over for trial on charges of murdering Charles Crawford, political boss and Herbert Spencer, magazine editor, David H. Clark polled more than 67,000 votes here yesterday in his race for municipal judge, but was defeated.

Complete official returns gave Clark 67,014 votes and his opponent, Charles B. MacCoy, incumbent, 95,774.

Clark, central figure in a case described by prosecuting authorities as a racketeer killing, remained in jail today, unable to raise the $100,000 bond set for his release pending trial.

Special Prosecutor Joseph Ford announced Jean Riley, motion picture actress, had been dismissed as a state witness. She did not testify. Miss Riley confessed, Ford said, that her story that she had seen three men run from Crawford's office immediately after the shooting May 29 was a fabrication, told in the hope of getting publicity.

Clark attorneys did not ask dismissal of the charges at the close of the trial by saying they felt all facts should be brought to light in superior court.

Two state witnesses identified Clark as the man seen to enter Crawford's office before and leave after the shooting.

Five U. S. Residents To Share in Winnings of Turf Event.

By The Associated Press

EPSOM DOWNS, England, June 3—For the first time in recent years a favorite showed the way home in the English derby as J. A. Dewar's Cameronian, 7 to 1 choice, scored over 25 other three year-olds in the one hundred and forty-eighth renewal of the classic here today.

Marshal Field's Jacopo, one of the two American representatives finished seventh. William Woodward's Sir Andrew was far back in the pack as it galloped across the finish line.

Million View Race

With a crowd variously estimated from 750,000 to 1,000,000 including King George and the royal family looking on, Cameronian, the big son of Phalaris out of Una Cameron galloped home over the one and one half miles three quarters of a length in front of Sir John Rutherford's Orpen, the co-second choice. A like distance back in third place trailed Lord Rosebery's Sandwich, another one of the more highly favored.

The race was worth about 15,000 pounds added (60,000) to the winner while 200,000,000 of dollars were distributed through the Irish sweepstakes and smaller sweeps. This year's renewal of the turf's oldest race was generally said to be the biggest "money race" of racing history.

Cameronian was clocked in the good time of 2:36 3-5 for the grueling mile and one half up and down hill journey. With Freddy Fox in the pilot seat the Da War colt kept close to the pace throughout the journey and once he started running in the stretch, he was not to be beaten.

The victory of Cameronian was a popular one as the Da War ace

ELEVATOR OPERATOR WINS

Worker at Cincinnati Says He'll Give Children "Good Education"

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, O., June 3—William T. Coyle, one of five Americans who won large sums as a result of holding winning tickets on the English derby, is an elevator operator in a downtown office building here.

He lives in Dayton, Ky., is married and has three children. His ticket on Sandwich brought him $50,000.

Coyle was late to work this morning having received permission from his employers to remain at home and listen in on his radio to the description of the derby.

The elevator operator said he intended to keep his present job as long as he could, and that he would use part of the money to give his children a good education, something that circumstances denied him. He said he probably will place some of the money in trust to provide for his wife and children should anything happen to him.

NEGRO LANDS FORTUNE

Keeps on Working Despite Newly Acquired Stake of $150,000.

By The Associated Press

BOSTON, Mass., June 3—Joseph Kennedy, Negro, whose ticket on Cameronian in the Irish sweepstakes on the English derby, brought him a fortune when the horse won the race, went to work as usual this morning.

When friends expressed surprise that Kennedy should continue his employment with more than $100,000 practically within his grasp, Kennedy smiled and told them he was going to work until the race was run.

Since Kennedy's ticket was drawn he has steadfastly refused to sell any part of it. He wanted to win all or lose all.

Votes Mixed

(Will Rogers Special)

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., June 3—Just had an election out here today for new councilmen and new sewers and more people got their crosses mixed up.

This is "cotton week" all over the south. They had laid by their silks for a week and at all the luncheon clubs the speeches are to be about "cotton."

That will perhaps disgust all the listeners with ever wearing cotton again. What the south needs is a week called "Steal the farmers cotton seed week."

If the south was robbed of all their cotton seed for five years they would be loaning Mellon money. Yours,

MARYSVILLE HOLDUP NETS BANDITS $2,014

Pair Lock Assistant Secretary of Loan Company in Vault.

WOMAN ON DUTY ALONE

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE, O., June 3—Two bandits held up the Citizens Home & Savings Co. at noon today and escaped with $2,014 after locking the assistant secretary in the vault.

The men had escaped half an hour before the holdup was discovered by Reed Neer, secretary, when he returned from lunch. Authorities have only Mrs. McCloud's description to guide them in a search for the men.

Mrs. McCloud was alone when the first of the two men entered. He engaged her attention while the other, following him into the building worked his way behind the counter where he threatened her with a gun and forced her into the vault.

Neer estimated the men took $2,014 from the counter and drawers under the counter. The loss was covered by insurance.

It was the first holdup of a financial institution in the history of Marysville. The institution, located at 122 east Fifth street, has been organized 40 years.

CONFERENCE STIRRED UP BY RITCHIE SPEECH

Criticizes Governors, Saying They Avoid Important Subjects.

By The Associated Press

FRENCH LICK, Ind., June 3—Criticizing the annual governors' conference for its policy of avoiding controversial subjects, Governor Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland took control of the closing session here late yesterday to advocate return of liquor control to the states as a solution of taxation problems.

The Maryland executive, presiding at the final discussion meeting, said were this done, the system of excise taxes which may again be built up might do away altogether with federal income taxes and "at one stroke relieve capital, labor and agriculture from the tax problems which rest so heavily upon them."

Of economic conditions, Governor Ritchie said, "you cannot have from five to eight million people wanting work and unable to get it without knowing that this constitutes a challenge to our social order and that it is the strongest argument for communism unless it is solved."

Pinchot Changes Subject

His departure from the conference agenda followed that of Governor Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania, who refused the assigned subject of reforestation, and attacked public utilities, charging that electric power interests are "milking the public" of an estimated half billion dollars a year through overcharges.

Governor Pinchot left French Lick last night before receipt of a telegram in which Samuel M. Vauclain, chairman of the Baldwin Locomotive works board, accused him of misrepresenting conditions in Pennsylvania.

Governor Ritchie, complaining that the conference refrains "from debating those questions which are the realities of our national life," told the governors that "if any one thing is clear, it is that our people are becoming tired of the old conjure words in American politics, and are concerned instead about getting or keeping their jobs."

"This is the fundamental economic question in America. It means far more to the people than any subject, or than all the subjects we could possibly discuss.

BANK REPORT ENCOURAGING

AUTO PRODUCTION UP

Department Store Sales Seen as One of Most Hopeful Developments.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., June 3—Evidence that ailing business has recovered a lot of its former vigor since the coming of spring was given today in the monthly survey by the Cleveland federal reserve bank. The survey covered Ohio, western Pennsylvania, West Virginia and eastern Kentucky.

Automobile production in the United States, a powerful factor in many lines of Ohio industry, gained 21.5 per cent in April and apparently held all of its advance in May. In Cleveland the steel industry advanced to 59 per cent capacity, from 56 per cent. Youngstown mills, lacking railroad and pipe line orders, but aided by automotive and structural demands, eased off one point to 12 per cent.

Rubber tire factories made good gains earlier in the year and since then have continued operations practically unchanged.

MAYOR AGAIN VETOES LANDING FIELD PLAN

"Too Much Money for Tract," Council Told as Ordinance Is Returned.

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, June 3—For the second time within the last six months Mayor Arthur Schuler vetoed legislation providing for the purchase of a municipal airport.

He returned to the city council Tuesday night the unapproved ordinance unanimously adopted by the council at its last regular meeting directing Service Director Clarence Kober to purchase from Peter Metzger the 64-acre tract of land now known as Port Bucyrus.

In a statement, Schuler said he was of the opinion that his action was in line with the opinion of the greater number of taxpayers of the city and in the best interests of the citizenship of the city.

That the price of the site is in excess of its real value was pointed out by the mayor who submitted figures of appraisers of the county appointed by the county auditor showing the value of the land at less than half the price asked in the sale.

In adopting the second ordinance two weeks ago the council acted upon a popular mandate at the November 1929 election when a $40,000 bond issue was approved for the purchase and equipment of a municipal airport. Bonds in the sum of $15,000 have already been sold for the purpose.

The site under consideration is now under operation as a private port under the management of Miss Lauretta Schimmoler who recently completed the construction of a new steel hangar.

Bettman Issues Ruling on Children's Home Wards

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 3—In an opinion today to Richland County Prosecutor G. E. Kalbfleisch of Mansfield, Attorney General Gilbert Bettman held that the trustees of a children's home are not authorized to dismiss a child from a home after it has reached 16 years, but must permit the child to remain until he is 21, even though he has not been placed in a permanent home and is not able to provide for his own maintenance.

AUTO FEE BILL IS VOTED OUT FOR PASSAGE

House Committee Acts Favorably on Measure Increasing License Charge.

ONE POINT UNDECIDED

Bettman Ruling Needed; Fight on Intangibles Tax Due Tomorrow.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 3—The house taxation committee of the Ohio general assembly, by a vote of 13 to 8, today recommended for passage the bill increasing license fees on automobiles and trucks, on condition that the attorney general holds the temporary allocation section constitutional. Thirteen votes were needed to report the bill out.

The section whose validity was questioned during committee hearings is that apportioning to county and township general funds during the next two years an amount equal to what these funds lose by removing motor vehicles and other personal property from the general duplicate.

While this method of allocation is only a temporary scheme to assure the counties and townships the operating funds which they had in the past until the actual result of the new tax code is ascertained, officials of the Good Roads Federation declared it cannot legally be put in force. They contended that all moneys derived from license fees must be spent exclusively for roads. An opinion from Attorney General Gilbert Bettman will be sought at the earliest moment.

No Change in Rates

The conditional approval of the house committee was given without any change in the increased rates, although attempts were made to lower them. The rates are: $7 up to 25 horsepower; $10 up to 28 horsepower; $15 up to 32 horsepower and $25 over 36 horsepower.

Minority members of the tax committee who opposed the recommendation yesterday of the classified intangibles bill voted today against the automobile bill. The two measures combined are the basic revenue producing bills to reimburse the local sub-divisions for tax losses incurred by repeal of the uniform rule.

Fight Anticipated

A fight on the floor of the house against the classified intangibles tax bill will open tomorrow morning when the measure comes up for a vote.

Unless the unexpected happens the bill will not get through the lower branch as easily as it passed the senate last week, although the house voted yesterday against the alteration of its rules to permit unlimited debate.

Eight members of the house tax committee who voted in the negative when the committee reported the bill out, with but a single vote to spare, submitted a minority report last night. At the same time the regular committee report was presented and the measure was made a special order of business for tomorrow.

Seven Points of Opposition

The minority gave seven reasons why the bill should not be passed and asked the house to table it. Instead the members tabled the minority report.

Among the reasons were charges that the bill gives no relief to real estate owners; that it discriminates against individuals and unjustly favors corporations; that the system it sets up is unworkable; that it will produce less revenue than the laws it repeals, and that it erroneously shields the tax returns of the wealthy.

Five Republicans and three Democrats signed the minority report. The Republicans were: Carl D. Sheppard of Akron, E. L. Cressy of Ashtabula county, O. W. Whitney of Delaware county, Oliver S. Nelson of Fayette county, and L. R. Bostwick of Madison county. The Democrats were: Oakley D. Spaght and O. W. Baum of Summit county and O. E. Brenneman of Morrow county.

2 RESOLUTIONS ASK UNIVERSITY PROBES

Miller Ouster Brings Requests for Business Investigation at Ohio State.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 3—Two controversies at Ohio State university were before the Ohio legislature today.

One, introduced by Representative Julian H. Schweller, Democrat of Putnam county asks the appointment of a committee to investigate administration of business affairs of the university by the board of trustees.

The other, submitted by Representative Martin E. Blum, Republican of Cleveland, seeks an inquiry into the circumstances leading to the failure of the board of trustees to renew the contract of Professor Herbert A. Miller, internationally known sociologist.

Schweller declared the propriety of some of the business transactions at the university were open to question "because of the connection one or more members of the board have with certain companies and corporations" having contracts with the board. He said there was need for a better and more economical administration.

Not Wanted in France, Tex and Troupe Sail for Home

By The Associated Press

HAVRE, France, June 3—Texas Guinan and her dancing "gang" sailed as first class passengers for New York today on the liner Paris at the expense of the line.

"Broadway, here we come" they shouted as the liner headed out to sea.

The troupe was conveyed to the boat in two French line busses. Miss Guinan, accompanied by her manager, John Stein, made a brief visit to the offices of the line and joined the party at the pier by taxi.

They were all in good spirits, shouting "they will be inviting us back." The American hostess, wearing a velvet riding habit, black pate et leather boots and a white beret, bounded the boat amid cheers.

La Guinan had a heated argument with her European manager, William Edelston, before embarking, saying that her failure to enter the country was due to "poor management."

Harry Asiett, the Londoner who proposed marriage to Miss Guinan, with the understanding that she could enter England as his wife and then divorce him, arrived this morning from Plymouth to press his case. She was too pre occupied with sailing arrangements to give him much attention, but she said she'd stick around three days to see something doing you. He hovered unnoticed in the background as the entertainers went aboard through a crowd of curious persons.

Candidate Held for Murder but Polls Big Vote

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, Calif., June 3—While he was being bound over for trial on charges of murdering Charles Crawford, political boss and Herbert Spencer, magazine editor, David H Clark polled more than 67,000 votes here yesterday in his race for municipal judge, but was defeated.

Complete official returns gave Clark 67,014 votes and his opponent Charles B. MacCoy, incumbent, 95,774.

Clark, central figure in a case described by prosecuting authorities as a racketeer killing, remained in jail today, unable to raise the $100,000 bond set for his release pending trial.

Special Prosecutor Joseph Ford announced Jean Riley, motion picture actress had been dismissed as a state witness. She did not testify. Miss Riley confessed, Ford said, that her story that she had seen three men run from Crawford's office immediately after the shooting May 26 was a fabrication, told in the hope of getting publicity.

Clarks attorneys did not ask dismissal of the charges at the close of the hearing, saying they felt all facts should be brought to light in superior court.

Two state witnesses identified Clark as the man seen to enter Crawford's office before and leave after the shooting.

Former Dayton Coroner Arrested on Complaint of Aged Woman.

By International News Service

The woman, Mrs. Barbara Newberger, who is less than five feet in height and weighs only about 70 pounds, told police, it was said, that the physician attacked her in his office where she went to settle an argument over a bill for $20 which she said the doctor claimed was due him.

Mrs. Newberger said she produced the receipt for the amount and that when she did so, the physician "flew into a rage," knocking her to the floor and inflicting a wound on her arm.

Five U. S. Residents To Share in Winnings of Turf Event.

By The Associated Press

EPSOM DOWNS, England, June 3—For the first time in recent years, a favorite showed the way home in the English derby as J. A. Dewar's Cameronian, 7 to 1 choice, scored over 25 other three-year-olds in the one hundred and forty-eighth renewal of the classic here today.

Marshal Field's Jacopo, one of the two American representatives finished seventh. William Woodward's Sir Andrew was far back in the pack as it galloped across the finish line.

Million View Race

With a crowd variously estimated from 750,000 to 1,000,000 including King George and the royal family, looking on, Cameronian, the big son of Pharos out of Una Cameron galloped home over the one and one-half miles, three quarters of a length in front of Sir John Rutherford's Orpen, the co-second choice. A like distance back in third place trailed Lord Rosebery's Sandwich, another one of the more highly favored.

The race was worth about 15,000 pounds added (60,000) to the winner while 200,000,000 of dollars were distributed through the Irish sweepstakes and smaller sweeps. This year's renewal of the turf's oldest race was generally said to be the biggest "money race" of racing history.

Cameronian was clocked in the good time of 2:38 3-5 for the gruelling mile and one half up and down hill journey. With Freddy Fox in the pilot seat, the Do War colt kept close to the pace throughout the journey and once he started running in the stretch, he was not to be beaten.

The victory of Cameronian was a popular one as the Do War ace

ELEVATOR OPERATOR WINS

Worker at Cincinnati Says He'll Give Children "Good Education"

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, O., June 3—William T. Coyle, one of five Americans who won large sums as a result of holding winning tickets on the English derby, is an elevator operator in a downtown office building here.

He lives in Dayton, Ky., is married and has three children. His ticket on Sandwich brought him $50,000.

Coyle was late to work this morning, having received permission from his employers to remain at home and listen in on his radio to the description of the derby.

The elevator operator said he intended to keep his present job as long as he could, and that he would use part of the money to give his children a good education, something that circumstances denied him. He said he probably will place some of the money in trust to provide for his wife and children should anything happen to him.

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., June 3—Just had an election out here today for new councilmen and new sewers and more people got their crosses mixed up.

This is "cotton week" all over the south. They had laid by their silks for a week and at all the luncheon clubs the speeches are to be about "cotton."

That will perhaps disgust all the listeners with ever wearing cotton again. What the south needs is a week called "Steal the farmers cotton seed week."

If the south was robbed of all their cotton seed for five years they would be loaning Mellon money. Yours,

The Stars Say--

For Thursday, June 4

THE astrological forecast for this day is quite important. It will be a day of surprises and probably abrupt and unforeseen visitations, some propitious and others giving concern, much depending on the wise embracing of the excellent openings and advantages presenting. Changes should be carefully considered. New contracts are in order and letters may bring good tidings. Personal affairs also promise much activity and pleasure as well as profit.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a very important year, with excellent prospects and unforeseen advantages in store. Change should be wisely decided upon and new projects. Correspondence may bring benefits and the personal contacts much profit and pleasure. A child born on this day should be brilliant, ingenious, cultured and ambitious, and should attain splendid position in literature, finance, business, science, arts and be a social favorite.

GUIDE LARUE CIVIC DESTINIES

Wasson, health commissioner of Crawford county, Dr. Finley Van Orsdall of LaRue, chief of the division of communicable diseases in the state department of health, Mayor L. Don Jones of Marion, Dr. N. Marion County Village Has Only Luncheon Club for Business Men Outside Marion City; All Lines of Endeavor Represented in Membership.

To the village of LaRue, the LaRue Business Men's association is a combination of the chamber of commerce, a better business bureau, a Kiwanis, Civitan, or Rotary club, and a civic clearing house in general. And it is fully as efficient as any of these organizations or associations might be in a city, for it has practically all the business and professional men of the town on its roster.

The association has been the means of bringing about a greater unity of purpose in all projects affecting the community generally. Any proposal of concern to every one interested in LaRue is taken up for thorough discussion by this group of men at their Thursday luncheons. At these weekly meetings in the American Legion hall topics of this nature are mixed with good fellowship over the luncheon table.

A better understanding of the outside world is gained by members of the association in weekly luncheons. Practically every county official has been the guest speaker at one or more meetings. Other speakers are businessmen from neighboring towns and cities.

Organized six years ago at the suggestion of Dr. N. Sifritt, city and county health commissioner of that village, the association has grown steadily in strength, now numbering 32 members. It is the only organization of its kind in the county, outside Marion. The association recently honored Dr. Sifritt with a special program at its weekly luncheon.

Luncheons are discontinued for a three-month period each summer. Officers and committees are elected each year.

Present officers are Dr. J. C. Thuma, president; E. E. Blazer, vice president; and C. C. Holliday, secretary and treasurer. Dr. Thuma is president of the LaRue board of education and president-elect of the Central Ohio Dental Society. Blazer is editor of the LaRue News.

Indiana plans to place some 12 or 15 steel fire towers to protect some 35,000 acres of dense timber land.

TELLS JUDGE POLICE OVERLOOKED LIQUOR

Blue Says Jug Missed on Previous Raid; Gets $500 Fine.

That the liquor found by the police in their raid late Saturday night, was some they overlooked in their raid a week previous, failed to impress Municipal Judge W. R. Martin yesterday afternoon when John Blue was arraigned on an illegal possession charge, and a fine of $500 and costs was imposed.

Blue who just finished paying a fine of $200 and costs last week on a charge of illegal possession, was arrested late Saturday night when police found two gallons of alleged whisky at his home. When arraigned Monday Blue pleaded not guilty and his trial was set for yesterday afternoon when he told the court the liquor found by the police was some they overlooked a week previous. He is being held pending payment of the fine.

KEEP KISSABLE

WITH OLD GOLDS

OLD GOLDS were created to give you THROAT-EASE...as well as a more delightful tasting cigarette. But the makers also considered your breath, your lips, your teeth, as well as your THROAT.

They created a pure-tobacco cigarette ... free of coriander and other greasy artificial flavorings that burn into clinging, staining, breath-tainting vapors.

To avoid unpleasant aftermaths, smoke pure-tobacco OLD GOLDS. Their clean, sun-ripened, natural-flavored tobaccos will be like honey to your THROAT. And they leave no objectionable odors either on your breath or clothing, or in the room.

HERE'S THE PROOF

Open up a pack of OLD GOLDS and smell the tobacco. Do the same with any other cigarette. Judge for yourself which has the natural, pleasant, all-tobacco aroma. It's a favor to your family and friends, as well as to yourself, to smoke NATURAL-FLAVORED, pure-tobacco OLD GOLDS.

Flashes of Life

SANTIAGO, Chile — American women have discovered great merit in native beer. It is excellent for cleansing clothes. Garments are first washed in a lather made of quiyai bark and then given a beer bath. The bark is no good at all without the beer rinse. The results have been amazing and word of the discovery has spread rapidly in the American colony. Delicate garments, no matter how soiled, are made spotless without injury to the fabric.

Washington Woman Named Champion Lip Reader of U. S.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, June 3.—Miss Frances Harrod Downes of Washington, D. C., is the champion lip reader of the United States.

She won the honor last night defeating four contenders in a contest conducted by the American Federation of Organizations for the Hard of Hearing at its annual convention.

When seven years old scarlet fever affected Miss Downes hearing. Today she is totally deaf in one ear and can hear only slightly out of the other. But she has gone through high school with her more fortunate schoolmates and is on the threshold of college.

The tournament itself was a mystery to those who could not read lips and high entertainment judging from the applause and mirth to those who could.

We don't care for men who simply grunt when you make a careful argument to them.

Why? Because they got the desired results. "Such calls do not surprise us at The Star office because we get them every day. Of course, it is a pleasure to receive them because so many advertisers express surprise that a little want ad, at such small cost, could do such a BIG job."

A farewell party was held Wednesday night at the Martel school auditorium, honoring L. L. Two Boys will Go Adventuring this Summer

¶ HOW TWO FAR-SEEING PARENTS WILL HELP THEIR SONS TO KNOW MORE ABOUT THE PRACTICAL THINGS OF LIFE

Four air lines, operating 120 planes over 32,000 miles daily, and flying more than 12,000,000 miles a year have combined under the name of the United Air lines. The combine idea seems to be as strong in the air as upon land or sea. Combines are the order of the day.

Distance, whether on land or sea or through the air, means less and less almost daily. Service from the Government.

The United States public health service has made its annual statement regarding "practices conducive to healthful, comfortable and efficient living in hot weather."

Important words of advice are contained therein. They have been paid for; they should be taken to heart. The government has the taxpayers' interests at heart.

For instance, a good summer rule is to stop eating when the stomach is satisfied. Diet should be balanced, and the food should be light and nutritious.

Milk, fruit juices and water are refreshing and healthful summer drinks. From six to eight glasses of cool water should be consumed every day, according to circumstances. Here again, it is a good rule to stop when the stomach is satisfied, the statement warns.

Clothing is important too. It is better to wear light-colored, porous clothing when the weather is warm. It is more comfortable than dark, close-woven clothing.

Bathing and regular hours will help keep the body toned up during the summer, as they will during the winter, fall and spring also. Caution must be taken about drafts when one is warm, the statement warns, because "summer colds are easy to get and are particularly disagreeable."

But the real discovery—the acme of social service in the statement is this thumb-nail sketch of the whole secret of successful summer living—"To be comfortable during hot weather, live sensibly, acquire regular habits of living, get plenty of rest, and above all try to acquire a cheerful and philosophical outlook on life."

How fortunate that the government is equipped to solve the taxpayers' summer problems so unostentatiously and efficiently.

For Better Service.

The coming convention of the American Medical association in Philadelphia might be taken as typical of the finest fruits of better organization among medical practitioners. It will be the largest assembly of doctors that ever met anywhere in the world.

Among those attending will be practicing physicians from every state, every one of them there for the purpose of learning more about his profession and the men who have its high ideals in charge. He will hear about the newest discoveries, and at the same time will learn what the association is doing to protect the public against quackery and increase the valuable cohesiveness of the medical profession.

Criticism of the medical profession on the grounds of inadequate service to the masses is retroactive, because in the long run the profession will be only as good as the people it serves. It is a tribute to the fine idealism of its leaders that it has been willing to lead the way wherever possible, but it can go only as far as the public's support allows.

Charlatans always have been, and perhaps always will be, encouraged by patronage. Conscientious physicians who serve faithfully without assuring themselves of payment in advance will be turned away in their time of need by dishonest creditors. Though it is true that individual members of the medical profession have gone to the extreme limit of avarice in an attempt to save themselves from the deceit of the public they serve, the majority of physicians remain what they always have been—hard-working people who have trained themselves at great expense to serve society.

Improvement—advance—is the medical profession's eternal impulse. It has brought the profession out of the woods of voodooism and elevated it to the rank of a science. The vast community of social-minded people represented in the medical profession is one of the best guarantees that this is a forward-moving world.

An employe of a Pontiac, Michigan, bank who plotted its robbery has been given a sentence of from twenty-five to forty years. Not too much, considering his betrayal of the confidence not alone of his employers, but of the public as well.

The Tax Dollar.

Every so often the federal government publishes figures to show how state governments spend their money. A new batch has just been issued. They cover the fiscal year 1929, but represent well-established proportions.

In view of the movement in the assembly to load more taxes on automobiles and truc[k]s the outstanding figure on sources of revenue is that on license taxes, including the well-known taxes on motor vehicles and motor fuel. Ohio gets 47.8 cents of every dollar of state revenue from its license taxes. The national average from this source is 40.5 cents.

Other important sources of revenue are general property taxation, 14.4 cents; special taxes on property, inheritance, income, etc., 13.8 cents; departmental earnings and public service enterprises, nine cents; subventions, grants and assessments, 11.2 cents, and miscellaneous, 3.8 cents. Ohio's return from general property taxation is low, compared with the national average.

Three-fourths of the money went to schools, highways, charities, hospitals and corrections in 1928, and would be apportioned the same way any normal year. Highways get the most—27.8 cents out of every dollar. Schools get twenty-six cents, and others listed above get twenty-one cents. The next largest item of expense is protection to persons and property, which costs the state 6.7 cents out of every dollar.

Comparing these expenditures with the national average, it is found that Ohio spends only two-thirds as much for schools, but much for highways, charities, hospitals and corrections. Its general government costs, 6.4 cents in every dollar, is 1.7 cents lower than the national average. In 1928 it cost each person in Ohio $8.24 to operate and maintain its general departments; the national average was $10.26.

Judge Wickersham is said to be shocked by the corruption in the cities of America. Where can the judge possibly have been keeping himself for the last eight or nine years to experience at this late date a shock over a situation which has been a matter of common knowledge for almost, if not quite, a decade.

Greater Than the Game.

Two deaths in the Ohio delegation to the house of representatives of the seventy-second congress have complicated the politician's game of plotting political alignments in advance. The players are more important than the game they play, always. Their destiny is beyond human control.

The death of Representative Charles A. Mooney of the Twentieth Ohio district, was the fifth among members of the new house, and the third among its Democratic members. The other two were Representatives Aswell, of Louisiana, and Representative O'Malley, of New York. The Republican deaths were Speaker Longworth of Ohio and Representative Cooper, of Wisconsin.

It is possible that the special elections necessary to refill the places of the two able Ohio men will make no difference in the political complexion of the house. Representative Mooney comes from Cleveland, which has one other Democratic congressman and one Republican. He may be succeeded by a Democrat. The congressman to-be from the Cincinnati district, served so ably by the late Mr. Longworth, probably will be a Republican. If that happens, the political division of the house will remain: Republicans, 216; Democrats, 214; Farmer-Labor, one. There is a possibility that the Republicans may capture the Twentieth Ohio district, but no one can say for certain.

The importance of good health in a politician is great. Without certainty, politics always is dangerous. Before congress convenes again there may be many more than five deaths to complicate the schemes of the political planners.

Thomas Ash, Jr., who planned to make a non-stop flight across the Pacific from Japan to America has decided not to make the attempt owing to the fact that he found his plane "untid." There's another thing to be said for the abandonment of the plan, there's an awful lot of water between Japan and America.

SHOTS ACROSS THE SEA.

As if we did not have enough domestic attacks upon our protective tariff, we must needs see "foreign levies" against it. In England, Mr. Lloyd George is having a fine time holding up the Hawley-Smoot tariff as a horrible example for Englishmen to avoid. He fairly gloats, at least rhetorically and for political purposes, over the misfortunes which have befallen the United States. Has our tariff law kept our overseas commerce flourishing? Only look at the sad slump in it—worse than Great Britain's. American unemployment, under a tariff system which was guaranteed to give every man a job and ultimately to abolish poverty, is much worse than the English. There are no breadlines in England, but there is a network of them in the United States. Thus runs the argument of Mr. Lloyd George, who is just beginning a great campaign in the name of the Liberal party to maintain the policy of free trade, by joining forces with the Labor government, despite all the efforts of Mr. Baldwin and the Conservative party and weak-kneed Liberals like Mr. Keynes, to set up a first installment of protective taxes in England.

Mr. Lloyd George always carries a double-barreled gun. He fires a second shot directed at those who would have England imitate the American tariff policy. High-tariff America? Why, exclaims Mr. Lloyd George, it is the greatest area in the world enjoying absolutely free trade. Between the States themselves not a single customs house anywhere exists. Commerce of all kinds flows without let or hindrance from one boundary of the country to the other. Truly, a glorious model for England! The inference would seem to favor Lord Beaverbrook's scheme of free trade within the empire, with a tariff wall around it as against all other countries. But that is not at all Mr. Lloyd George's idea. In the exuberance of his oratory he finds it easy to condemn American protection in one breath while exalting American free trade in the next.—New York Times.

BORAH ADVISES PROGRESSIVES.

Familiar advice comes from Senator Borah. It is to the effect that Republican "Progressives" will waste their time if they try to defeat Mr. Hoover for the nomination next year. The Idaho man may be the bitterest of administration critics when legislative policies are at stake, but the approach of election finds him tucked snugly into the band wagon not far from the driver's seat.

Of course, the senator is right as to the futility of trying to defeat Mr. Hoover if, as every one supposes, the President wants the 1931 nomination. Regardless of what party leaders may think the incumbent must be named again unless they want to concede defeat in the election before the campaign begins.

To organize a "Progressive" movement behind Governor Pinchot, as has been suggested, would lead to nothing at all unless to the certain election of the Democratic candidate. What was found impossible to achieve under the magnetic leadership of Roosevelt could not be accomplished now under any of the minor prophets available to head the national ticket.

If Republican "Progressives" wish to deny Mr. Hoover the vindication of a second term they can gain that end more directly and with less effort by doing as Senator Norris did in 1930 and throwing their support to the Democratic nominee. They need not go to the expense of nominating their own ticket. The goal is the same in either case.

Reports persist that Pinchot is reaching for the crown. Perhaps he will be content merely to win his own state delegation, assuming he can get it. The ordinary imagination is not elastic enough to picture the governor beating the President in the convention to be held a year from this month.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Twenty Years Ago.

It was Saturday, June 3.

Linderbeck stood third in the Ohio State batting list with an average of .372, Meehan and Colligan being the only other Marion players batting over .300.

James Merrill, eighteen, was badly burned while working on the Marion County Telephone company's lines on Silver street.

Charles L. Justice was named as chairman of the county tax budget commission.

Mrs. Orison F. Creviston, twenty, died of lockjaw.

George, four-and-a-half-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Stafford was dangerously scalded when he upset a bucket of boiling water upon himself.

Miss Jessie Eheirs and Mr. James H. Clouse were married by Dr. D. H. Bailey.

Marion, with Cooper pitching, defeated Portsmouth, two to one.

Miss Olive Merrifield, of Bloomingdale, Michigan, and Mr. Malcolm Dickerson were married in the home of the bride's parents by Rev. Mr. Tait.

Mrs. Alice A. Lever and S. H. Fetter were married by Rev. F. E. Zechiel. It was the bride's sixth matrimonial venture.

Health Examinations Forewarn.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

It has been the effort of the medical profession to stimulate interest in periodic health examinations. There has been a response to this demand, but not at all equal to its expectations.

People are prone to be negligent and careless concerning their health. As a rule, they will visit a physician only when they have a definite complaint. The custom of "locking the barn door after the horse has been stolen," can be applied to man's attitude toward his health.

We can only be assured of good health when we can conserve the energies of the body, respect its demands and treat it accordingly. The body is similar to a machine. It will run perfectly when all the parts are functioning.

If some of the parts undergo wear, the amount of work must be lessened. Traces of albumen in the urine, high blood pressure, low blood pressure, thickening of the arteries, habitual indigestion, loss of weight and vitality are all signs demanding attention.

Thickening of the arteries, or "arteriosclerosis," has for many years been considered exclusively an occurrence of middle life and old age. Unfortunately this is not true. In a remarkably large percentage of cases, this condition exists in comparatively young people.

This change in the blood vessels, if recognized early, is of great importance. The process is a slow one and as a rule does not cause serious trouble until middle age. This condition, if allowed to exist without proper care, does serious damage to the heart, blood vessels and kidneys.

Often, high blood pressure exists without thickening of the arteries. Other causes can be found. Taking of the blood pressure is a simple and important test. This is one of the advantages offered by periodic health examinations.

As a rule, low blood pressure is not considered to be of much significance. Its presence, however, may point to tuberculosis, nervous depression, infection or impairment of the general circulation of the body. Just what is wrong can only be determined by a careful physical examination.

It is worthwhile to submit to an occasional overhauling. Your doctor will give you advice that may add years to your life.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES

R. S. Q—What can be done for bronchitis in a boy of sixteen? He has a rather severe attack which has lasted for three weeks, coughing and expectorating a great deal. He loves the outdoors.

What Is Science?

BY ARCHIBALD HENDERSON.

Science once meant knowledge, or the business of the acquisition of knowledge. This meaning is not applicable to science, as we know it today. Such a definition might equally apply to philosophy or theology, for example, the processes of which are totally different from those of science. It is certainly true that the scientist is concerned with the discovery of new truths. These truths were hidden from mankind; they perhaps lay off the beaten track or were veiled by barriers which had not yet been battered down. We call these truths new, not because they are manufactured, but because they are discovered.

Before the scientist can arrive at such new truths, he must bring to light new facts. If he is an inventor, he must learn how to make some new device, some hitherto unknown gadget, which will aid in doing the work of the world. If he is a pure scientist, he must discover some new process for accomplishing certain desired ends—say for the solution of an equation of the fifth degree or for determining the size of the electron.

It is not enough, however, merely to accumulate a mass of new or at least hitherto unknown facts. We might heap up masses of facts to the stars and yet never get anywhere in science. For the scientist, it is indispensable that he accumulate facts which belong in the same category. It is hardly worth while to collect, indiscriminately, a lot of data regarding animals, minerals and sky-scrapers. There is little or no connection between them. The scientist gathers facts which he can intimately relate. The purpose of the scientist in gathering facts, actually, is to relate them. They must be arranged in categories according to their relationship or likenesses.

Once the scientist has gathered a great mass of data and classified them in accordance with some intelligible scheme, he then has to discover whether there is or is not some principle or law which controls or governs the data. All bodies, if released, have a tendency to fall. A profound analysis of this phenomenon led Newton to the formulation of the law of universal gravitation. There is an equation which expresses the law by which the earth attracts bodies; or indeed by which all bodies mutually attract each other. It was this equation which Newton devised; and in doing so, formulated mathematically the law of universal gravitation. So far, however, scientists have not been able to determine why bodies attract each other, although they are able to determine how and in what proportions. Perhaps the scientists have not yet accumulated sufficient data to tell why; or else they have not learned how to relate these facts in the particular way necessary to elicit the desired principle or law.

A final step which the scientist takes is to arrange, to organize, the laws which he and others have discovered, in order to arrive at new combinations—new facts, new laws. Almost simultaneously Newton and Leibnitz are said to have "invented" the differential calculus. This statement is actually erroneous. The methods of the calculus had been used, more or less sporadically, for many centuries—as far back as the time of Zeno the Eleatic. Newton and Leibnitz were anticipated in the use of the methods of the calculus by Cavalieri, Fermat, Wallis, Barrow and others. But Newton and Leibnitz formulated the laws of the calculus, the logical and scientific justification of the methods which had been in use for centuries.—Copyright, 1931, International Feature Service, Inc.

Central Ohio Land Titles.

BY J. H. GALBRAITH.

Columbus is situated near the junction of four important surveys of land, with which it is the business of real estate title abstracters to be familiar. These four tracts whose lands run back for authority as to transfer and title to different original grants, are the United States military lands, the "Refugee" tract, "Congress lands and Virginia Military District lands.

The northeastern portion of Franklin county lies in the United States military lands district. They were so called from the fact that they were set aside to be used as special compensation for officers and soldiers of the War of the Revolution. The Scioto river is the best boundary. The Greenville treaty line the northern, the western line of the first seven ranges the eastern, and "Congress" lands and the "Refugee" tract the southern. It contained 4,000 square miles, or 2,500,000 acres.

The "Refugee" tract lies between Fifth avenue and Steelton, and extends east from the Scioto river about fifty miles. The townships of southeastern Franklin county lie in the "Congress" lands district, a tract sold by officers of the government under provisions of congressional enactments.

All that part of Franklin county which lies west of the Scioto river is within the Virginia military lands district, so called because of the fact that when Virginia released her claim to territory northwest of the Ohio river she was given in consideration the lands lying between the Scioto and Miami rivers, out of which to compensate officers and soldiers of the revolution in the Virginia line. All of Columbus included in what is called the West Side is therefore in this district.

It is the one tract of the several centering in Columbus that is not regularly surveyed. Claimants were permitted to locate their claims as they pleased, and they usually ran their lines to take in the best lands and more desirable building places. Lands there are for this reason the bugbear of land title students.

CITY LOSES MONEY

San Francisco Beaten in Fight Over Will of Wealthy Pioneer.

By International News Service.

SAN FRANCISCO. Because the will in which Carl G. Larsen, picturesque proprietor of a cafe here in the early days, was ruled invalid San Francisco must relinquish its claim to $500,000 of the $800,000 estate, and it will go to his heirs at law. The will, written nearly 20 years before Larsen's death contained no signature and was admittedly ineffective.

Larsen, who came around the Horn in 1889 a penniless carpenter, willed the residue of his fortune to the city for the establishment of a museum in Golden Gate Park.

He owned the old Tivoli cafe for years and amassed a fortune. Four years before his death Larsen gave the city two city blocks of land to be used as a public park. This gift will not be affected by the ruling on the will, however.

OLDSMOBILE THIS YEAR HOLDS A HIGHER PLACE IN PUBLIC FAVOR THAN EVER BEFORE

Since the enthusiastic reception given the 1931 Oldsmobile on the occasion of its introduction to the public in January of this year, Oldsmobile's popularity has continued to increase, month after month + + As a result, Oldsmobile is now enjoying a greater percentage of the business in its price class than any time in its history. And new thousands of owners are telling their friends of the pleasure and satisfaction of Oldsmobile ownership + + Many of the reasons for this growing popularity are understandable upon examination of the 1931 Oldsmobile Six . . . for the desirable features of the car are self-evident. But there are more fundamental reasons for the definite preference being shown for Oldsmobile + + Four years ago Olds Motor Works adopted a policy toward owners which has been followed to the letter, year after year, in the development of Oldsmobile cars. This policy took the form of four great responsibilities . . . to design progressively . . . to build faithfully . . . to sell honestly . . . and to service sincerely. Upon these four responsibilities Olds Motor Works has founded its success. And these constitute the policy which the public has so wholeheartedly endorsed this year + + Olds Motor Works wishes to express its appreciation to the men and women throughout the country who have made the new Oldsmobile the car of many firsts . . . and when, by choosing and recommending the good qualities to their friends, are adding still further to Oldsmobile's steady advancement in public esteem.

THAT THAR GOLD

CHERRY VALLEY, N. Y.—There's gold in them thar Adirondacks, think five men who found traces of it in the mines opened by Earl Welch in his 10-year search. Early tests, they said, showed 75 cents worth of gold in two tons of gravel. The same vein of gravel runs through the Adirondacks and west clear across the state.

THE PENALTY OF GRAY HAIR

Gray hair—age—slipping. All these unpleasant ideas seem to go together. Yet, it is not at all necessary. Gray Hair often comes to a young head and people who have it are neither old nor incapable. But how often you hear people say, "Why, she has gray hair!" and—she is on the shelf.

This penalty need no longer handicap the woman who uses Canute Water. This is a clear, spring-like water, of wonderful properties which actually restore hair to its original girlhood color. No complicated "color plan"; no danger of getting brunette shade when your hair is blonde. Not only the one kind but the one bottle is enough. It really is surprising what successful, youthifying results it gives.

Apply Canute Water yourself, in the privacy of your own home. Many woman in town are doing the same thing; they simply do not mention it. You need not mention it either. Just buy a bottle from any good druggist—and get rid of the "age penalty" in gray hair. Canute Water is so safe, so scientific and sure that your dealer knows it will satisfy you; if not, he will refund your money. Sold and recommended by Eckerd's Drug Store or your own druggist.—The Canute Co., Milwaukee, Wis.—Adv.

Drama Off-Stage

TOWARD the end of their last ... at the Academy, Antonio ... to think seriously of the ... ... was spring and the Dramatic Club was giving its last play of the season. Harriet and Tony were rehearsing in their theater—that little retreat walled in by the flowery banks and the willow thicket.

The memories of their first boy and girl meeting and of the many hours they had spent there together—the season, warm and rich with the fragrance of the earth and growing things—do you wonder that the young man was stupid about the play which he and the girl were rehearsing and that she had often to chide him for not getting into his part?

His thoughts were all upon the roles that Harriet and he were to act in a play of much greater importance than the one in which they would appear on the Dramatic Club stage before all Orchard Hill.

Tony wanted to make the love passages real. But the girl was too intent upon the drama and he dared not risk speaking of his very real love when she was occupied with the art of making their stage love seem real. So the boy took what comfort he could in their mimic love scenes and waited a more opportune time.

That play was a great success. Harriet, in her love scenes with Tony, must have felt the genuineness of his passion. Certainly she electrified the audience like a creature inspired. Even those who were most emphatic in their disapproval of the professional stage and of Harriet, crowded about her when the final curtain was down with congratulations. The girl in the excitement of her triumph threw her arms about Tony's neck and kissed him before everybody. It was an unheard-of thing for an Orchard Hill girl to do—and Orchard Hill did not forget it.

Tony felt so confident of her love that he almost spoke that night when he took her home. But something warned him that this was not the time, so he asked her to meet him at their theater next day, in the afternoon.

When the appointed hour arrived Antonio was there, hidden among the willows. He wanted to see her as he saw her that day when barefooted, fish pole and fish in hand, he first thrilled to the charm of her girlhood.

Presently she came along the path from her home on the hill. Tony held his breath and stood very still. While waiting for her lover, not realizing that he was so near, Harriet gathered violets, exactly as on that other occasion which now seemed to Tony but an hour ago.

At last the young man stepped forth. The girl stood smiling, as if she had known all the time how near he was.

"Hello," said Tony, foolishly.

"Hello," answered Harriet; and then added, with the adorable shyness of a little girl, "been fishin'?" She had remembered too!

She was sitting on a large stone, when Tony, who sat on the grass at her feet, managed to speak what was in his heart. For what seemed to the young man a long time, the girl made no reply but sat motionless, as if she were seeing things invisible to him and listening to voices he could not hear. And in that silent moment the boy's heart sank, for he knew what her answer would be.

At last she smiled a strange little smile and said gently, "I have known for a long time, Tony, that you would some day say these things to me." She paused and her voice was not quite steady. "And you have known, I am sure, that I expected you to ask me to marry you. I should have been terribly disappointed and hurt if you had not—because—because—you see, I do love you and I wanted this moment, Tony, dear, because it is all we can ever have."

To all his pleadings she answered that she had given herself to the stage, recognizing their love and realizing all that the sacrifice would mean. She felt that she was born to the theater. To her, the art of acting was sacred. Antonio had been set apart by his parents to the church. In spite of their love they must go their separate ways.

In desperation Tony declared he would not give her up. He argued that he had not finally committed himself to the church and that his parents had no right to say what his life work should be. He said that he would go with her; that they would together devote their lives to the theater.

But Harriet answered: "I have thought all that out, Tony; it simply cannot be. Inevitably we would both feel that I had come between you and your parents, even that I had lured you away from the church. The realization would make happiness impossible. If I were to deny my own nature and give up my art we would come to the same unhappiness. It is better for us both, Tony, dear, to keep our love as it is — beautiful and unspoiled."

When he could not prevail against her decision he took her home along the little hillside path. For a long time he stood in the twilight watching the door through which she had entered the house, hoping against hope that she would feel him waiting there and would come back. But the door remained closed.

That play, which the Dramatic Club had presented only the night before, was given for the benefit of the Academy Library Fund. Tony was treasurer of the Club. The good villagers of Orchard Hill were wild with wrathful excitement the next day when it was discovered that Antonio Latour and the money which the Dramatic club had earned for the school library had disappeared.

"Heart of a Wife"

BY ADELE GARRISON

Lillian Offers an Explanation.

I STARED at Lillian as she propounded the theory that the Chinese laundryman who had brought me the message from his countrymen demanding Marion's mysterious lock box, had never taken my refusal back to them. Then I straightened in my chair, as hurried excited words bubbled to my lips.

"That explains everything. He suddenly decided that he would not risk returning with my refusal."

"Knowing that he would be punished for his failure so heavily that death won't almost be preferrable, he no doubt did that little thing," she tempered dryly.

"But," I said doubtfully, "if they ever catch him won't they—"

Lillian gave a little shudder. "Let us not dwell upon the niceties of Oriental retribution," she said. "Instead it wouldn't be a bad idea to speculate on his methods for eluding his employers. He evidently has kept close watch of your movements waiting for a chance to address this letter to Lee Chow."

Lillian's Theory

"But where can he have lived?" I asked, bewildered. "There are no Chinese in this section since he moved away."

Instead of answering, Lillian cupped her chin in her palms with her elbows resting on her knees, her invariable attitude when thinking out a problem, and I leaned back in my chair, waiting quietly until she should look up again.

The Orientals, especially the Chinese, rarely do things singly," she said at last. "They hunt in pairs. We knew, in the days when Lee Chow was guarding Hop's that he belonged to some mystic organization with many ramifications, and that he was the object of unremitting persecution from a hostile organization. From what this man said to you when he first came to demand the box did you not gather that he was working for this gang of highbinders only through fear, and because he did not know where Lee Chow was?"

Too Well Guarded

I nodded for I knew better than to interrupt her train of thought, and she went on, emphasizing each point with a tap of her doubled right forefinger into her left palm.

"He violated his loyalty to Lee Chow to come to you with that threat, because he knew that Lee Chow was a friend to your family. But he was impelled by fear. When he failed, the fear became a certainty. He well knew what punishment would be his for failure, and there was room but for one thought in his mind—self preservation, although he realized no doubt, what a well-nigh hopeless thing his chance for safety was.

"If the organization to which he belonged when Lee Chow was here is now so powerless that it could not protect him when these others demanded his services, it certainly could not aid him materially in his flight for his life. Harboring him with the utmost secrecy for a few hours giving him some food and a little money, these are all he could reasonably expect from any one of his countrymen living near here. Yet he has been able to live so far, or our deductions concerning this message are all wet. What's the answer? Has Jim missed any eggs or chickens lately? No, he wouldn't because this place is so well guarded. What about the neighbors?"

The "Answer" Comes

I stared at her, wondering if she were jesting.

"You mean that he probably has been hiding in the woods around here ever since that time?"

She nodded vigorously.

"What else? It's been wonderful weather, warm dry, not many mosquitoes. Plenty of vegetables, fruit, eggs, milk, even chickens if he dared make a fire—to be had for the taking—they're an easy-going, unsuspicious lot these farmers. It's the only possible solution of the enigma."

"But," I expostulated "why didn't he come back and ask protection of us?"

"Having just brought you a threat of something terrible happening to you if you didn't give up that box, he probably didn't bank upon any welcoming hand from the farmhouse," she returned dryly. "Poor wretch! he certainly has been running a zigzag course between the devil and the deep sea—beg your pardon, old dear—take whichever cognomen to yourself you wish. But I certainly don't envy him when those devils get hold of him. They must be close on his trail to have spotted that envelope so quickly. They'd have had it if Mr. Tiger hadn't gone down there so quickly. Of course they have to keep all their movements under cover, because they cannot disguise their alien origin very well, and since that wholesale smuggling of Chinese in here from the fishing smacks a year ago, there's been a close look-out for the ones who haven't the right of entry. But they don't need to be in evidence when they settle accounts with that messenger."

I shivered as I grasped her sleeve and shook it.

"But, Lillian, we can't let a man go to his death like that. Yet how can we get hold of him?"

She did not answer for a few seconds, but raised her head in an attitude of listening. Then as a motor car which we had heard humming down the road, came nearer and turned into the farmyard, its sound almost overborne by the clamor of exciting young voices, she smiled at me and spoke these words.

"There's your answer."

Jubilee's Pardner

A Story of Boyhood Adventure

BY JUDD M. LEWIS

IT is funny about vacations. Here it is only Wednesday of the first week of vacation and it seems like we had always had vacation. I got up and let Jubilee down by the rope in his teeth and put the rope back in the attic and put on my short britches and went down to milk the cows and turn them loose to go over to the vacant lot.

When the bunch had came and we were mixing up what we would do Nibs said he thought it would be a good idee to run away from home, but none of the rest of us thought it would. If I was him and lived with my grandfather and grandmother I might run away from home, or if I was Bunt Miles whose father works in the stink factory and fusses Bunt wear out his old clothes so that Bunt smells like a high-holes nest whenever he gets near a stove in the winter I would run away. But I have got a baby sister and the best mother in the world and there isn't any use to go to, so why should I skin out.

We were still talking about it when we came to a barn by the side of the road and since yesterday someone had come and pasted pictures all over the side of it, all about a circus that is coming on June twenty-two. There was a picture of an ornery thorny-cuss, and a blood sweating behemoth and a lady in long stockings hanging to a rope by her teeth and a man walking on a tight wire. The cows waited for us a long time at the bars to the pasture.

Feeble said she was going to be a circus lady and set on the hind corner of a horse while it galloped around a ring, but Banty said his father had some telegraph wire in his workshop and we would all learn to do a tight wire act. So we all went around to his house and we talked to his mother while he snuck in the shop and throwed the wire out in the alley. It sure was heavy, but we put a pole through it and took it out to Mudturkle Pond, and I climb up a tree with one end of it and twisted it around the tree and then we took the other end of it and we all pulled it tight and fastened it to a stump across the pond.

Feeble said she would be the furst one to do the death-defying slide for life, so she borrowed Nibs' belt and climb the tree and put the belt over the wire and hollered, "Here goes nothing" and away she went, and we were all watching her when all at once the wire wore the belt in two right over the middle of the pond, and there went nothing sure enough.

We left the wire out there, and we had a lot of fun chunking clods at Nibs all the way home. If he would let go his britches to ketch the clods he didn't have his belt any more and it would be too bad. I told Feeble her mother would be supprized, but she said her mother has got over being supprized. I told her she was lucky that we put the wire over the pond, and she said she would have been luckier if she had been born with brains instead of good looks. I told her I thought she was.

WILL REDUCE LIGHTING RATE

Galion Council Fails To Act on Gas Ordinance After Third Reading.

Special to The Star

GALION, June 3—The question of new gas rates for Galion was left unsettled last night at the city council meeting. The ordinance granting a franchise to the Ohio Fuel & Gas Co. and the new rate schedule was read for the third time and was referred to the committee on rules and ordinances.

In reply to the suggestion of Councilman Wilbur King, that there should be a further reduction of rates for lighting, Mayor Hartmann said the matter is now under consideration and that the reduction will probably be effective July 1. Mayor Hartmann announced that the extension of cluster lights is being held up pending adjustment with the Cleveland Southwestern Railway Co. Mayor Hartmann also explained that repairs on Harding Way W. would be made before the centennial celebration.

The ordinance providing the acceptance of the plat of the Erie railroad and confirming the dedication of streets was passed.

Following the recommendation of the Galion Garden club, the council adopted the "dog wood" as a shrub to be used by residents and that Galion shall hereafter be known esthetically as "The City of Dog Woods."

A report of the equalizing board of assessment for the improvement of Fairview avenue was read and referred to the committee on streets and sewers.

A resolution was adopted which provided for the transfer of $600 from one sub-division of the water works to another sub-division.

City Solicitor George Davies informed the council that he had prepared an ordinance regulating the driving of taxi cabs.

WILL LET CONTRACT FOR STREET FRIDAY

Mt. Gilead Council Approves State's Plans for Resurfacing and Widening Main Street.

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD, June 3—Bids will be opened Friday at Columbus on the resurfacing and widening of south Main street from High to Marion streets. All legal steps necessary to get the work promptly under way have been taken by council and the state highway department.

The contract will be let immediately and construction work will probably start not later than July 1. H. D. Schoonover, resident highway engineer for Morrow county, and W. S. Dun, assistant engineer in the highway department, were present at the council meeting when the plans prepared by the department were approved. The work is estimated to cost $8,869.11 for the city and $4,890.03 for the state, a total of $13,769.14.

The street will be 46 feet wide instead of the present 40 feet. The pavement will be brick with a three-quarter inch sand cushion laid on a concrete base.

Plans for the installation of new lighting standards along the improved street and on a portion of High street have not been completed but a contract for the installation of the necessary electric cable will be let while the street is under construction.

Bids will be received until noon June 15 for work at the sewage disposal plant. This includes resanding, restoning and regraveling the three filter beds.

Attorney P. H. Wieland was employed to represent the interests of the city at any hearings held before the state utilities commission in regard to the request of the New York Central to discontinue passenger service on the T. & O. C. between Toledo and Thurston. The city is the owner of the shortline road between Mt. Gilead and Edison now under lease to the N. Y. C. Wieland represented the city at the first hearing held when the application of the road was denied. He will receive $75 for the first hearing and $25 for each subsequent hearing.

Because of several collisions at Bank and east High streets the state highway department will erect stop signs giving High street traffic the right-of-way.

The street lighting committee is considering the installation of a light in the first alley west of Main street between Center and Marion streets. The question of the sidewalk to be built along the Union store and the southeast park of the public square was referred to the sidewalk committee to arrange the proper sharing of the cost between the city and the Union store.

TEACHERS' PAY TO BE CUT ONE-TENTH

Instructors Given Until Friday To Sign New Term Contracts.

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, June 3—The entire teaching staff of Bucyrus city schools have until Friday to accept or reject new contracts tendered to them at a special meeting of teachers with the board of education Tuesday afternoon.

The contracts provide for a straight 10 percent salary decrease, replacing contracts tendered to the 69 teachers last week providing for salary to be paid on a monthly basis.

New contracts were submitted to the teachers when it was reported that they had declined to sign contracts on a monthly salary basis declaring that in reality they provided for a 20 percent reduction in salary.

Dwindling tax receipts due to reappraisement reducing the tax duplicate made necessary the reduction of salaries. Superintendent E. N. Deitrick explained today however that, if the February tax settlement indicates the board will have sufficient money to continue operation of schools with a full 9½ month schedule, teachers will be receiving practically the same salary as at present.

TWO STUDENTS OUT ON BOND

Michigan University Men Held Until They Reveal Alleged Source of Liquor.

By The Associated Press

ANN ARBOR, Mich., June 3—Two University of Michigan freshmen who remained in jail two days before they aided police in arresting the man from whom they purchased liquor were at liberty today, still to face charges of possessing liquor and disorderly conduct.

James L. Slocum, 19, of Pittsburgh, Pa., is president of the freshman literary class. His jail mate was Lawrence L. Heideman, 18, of Laurium, Mich. Frank L. Smith, a carpenter whom police accuse of selling them liquor, was arrested shortly before the students were released. Police said the boys finally had given the information which led to his apprehension.

The students said they had not been allowed to communicate with friends since Monday night. There had been no announcement of their arrests.

Police said they visited Slocum's and Heideman's rooming house, on complaint of their landlord, Saturday night and found a partly consumed bottle of liquor in their room. At police headquarters, the officers said, the boys furnished, after much argument, a telephone number, which they said they called to order liquor. They were released, police said, with the stipulation that one of them was to return Monday. The officers said neither returned and the telephone number was found to be fictitious, so both were re-arrested Monday night.

They are to be given a hearing in justice court June 9. In the meantime, they are at liberty under $500 bond each.

The banding together of all home owners in the city into an organization for the purpose of assisting in the effort to lower taxes on real estate, was one of the questions discussed when members of the Marion Real Estate board held their meeting in the office of W. T. Jones last night.

A committee consisting of W. T. Jones, J. W. Jacoby and Karl Schell was appointed to make an effort to interest home owners in the project.

The abolishing of all township offices as a means of reducing county operating expenses, was also urged during a discussion of the matter of reducing county and city operating expenses. The abolishing of these offices has been taken up by real estate groups in various parts of the country, according to W. T. Jones.

The matter of lower taxes on real estate and the action being taken by both the state and national real estate boards in the fight for lower taxes, made up the larger part of the discussion at the meeting.

FURIOUS SIXTH INNING RALLY BEATS IRISH; BISHOPS EDGED BY TRINITY IN TIGHT GAME 2-0

BY BOB KIRKPATRICK

IT wasn't so long ago that several softball fans in one of the downtown "grandstands" were heard arguing the question of which city recreation ball league had the hardest hitters. The individuuals in question weren't interested in which league was having the most singles. They were interested only in which loop was contributing the most extra base hits.

After reading the following figures which were compiled from results of games played to date in the four leagues you can decide for yourself which has the hardest hitters. Your decision will probably not take into consideration any one of the numerous factors such as difference in pitching and fielding ability in the leagues and therefore will be wrong but that won't make any difference. You'll have a lot of fun out of it.

To date the No. 2 Sunday school league has chalked up seven homers, 10 triples and 29 doubles for a total of 46. The No. 1 league (exclusive of games yesterday) has six homers, 10 triples and 28 doubles for a total of 44. The Industrial circuit has nine home runs, 11 triples and 27 two baggers for a total of 47 and the Commercial league has seven homers, eight triples and 24 doubles for a total of 39. And there's that!

The Lee Street Presbyterians and Epworth Bishops will be the sole occupants of the Marion recreation baseball spotlight today. The First Reformed game with Central Christion No. 1, which was to have been played at the Steam Shovel diamond has been called off until a future date to accommodate the Reformed players.

The Lee Street-Bishop game will be played at Lincoln park and promises to be a good battle. Both teams have the same records, one won and two lost, and a first division berth awaits the winner of today's struggle. Inasmuch as the Bishops have not shown ability to hit the ball consistently the Lee Street is a slight favorite to win the game.

UNTIL some means is devised to keep Calvary Evangelical Sunday school's recreation baseball team from staging batting rallies that produce a flock of runs in less time than it takes to write about it, there is little possibility of anyone beating the No. 1 Sunday school league champs.

St. Mary thought it had found the means yesterday when Gene Gunder silenced the big Calvary war clubs for five innings but apparently the Irish forgot there are seven full innings to a Marion softball game. As a result of these last two innings Calvary is today sitting in a tie for first place with Trinity Baptist, having staged one of these rallies in the sixth inning of the game with St. Mary that left the Irish dizzy before the third man was out.

St. Mary had a one run lead at the start of the sixth and it looked

TROJANS FAVORITES TO ROMP OFF WITH COLLEGE TRACK TITLE

Men of Troy Appear Too Strong for Field in National Meet.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, June 3—Knute Rockne once said his Notre Dame football teams "saved" Southern California for the union, but there appear to be no Rocknes around to stop the victorious sweep of the Trojan track stars.

Usually, the annual National Collegiate track and field meet causes almost as much speculation over the probable winner as the Kentucky derby but not this year. Every track expert picks the Trojans to gallop away with the title for the second consecutive year at Stagg field next Friday and Saturday. Their only differences in opinion are in the margin of victory.

A close sifting of past performances today indicated that the Trojans of brawn and speed would

U. S. Star Has Difficulties on First Nine; Farrell Shoots 72.

By The Associated Press

CARNOUSTIE, Eng., June 3—Finding himself in frequent difficulties on the second nine, Horton Smith of New York, carded a 77 for the first round of the British open golf championship today. Smith was out in 37 and then needed 40 to get home.

MacDonald Smith, who put together rounds of 70 and 71 to lead the field in the qualifying round, recovered from a bad 39 on his outgoing nine and posted a 75 for the first round of championship play proper.

Gene Sarazen, New York pro, played golf all the way to post a 74 for the first round.

Johnny Farrell of New York, holder of the American open crown in 1928, shot a brilliant 72 for his first round. Johnny burned up the course on the outgoing which he covered in 33 strokes but eased off a bit on the incoming nine where he took 39.

Connolly Selected To Head Umpiring Staff

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, June 3. William Harridge, newly elected president of the American league, believes it takes a good umpire to find out what's wrong with other umpires so he has appointed the veteran Tom Connolly for the job.

In keeping with his promise to American league club owners and managers, who have been complaining about umpires' decisions this season, President Harridge yesterday appointed Connolly as umpire-in-chief of the circuit. He will take up his duties June 18.

Connolly, dean of the umpiring staff of the league and rated as one of the best in either major league loop, also will advise the president on playing rules.

A STAGG AFFAIR

By International News Service

CHICAGO, June 3. Paul Stagg, son of Alonzo A. Stagg, famed football coach at the University of Chicago, has been elected captain of the Maroon tennis team for next year. Another Stagg boy, A. A. Jr., was captain in 1923. Paul, a junior, is also a quarterback on his dad's football team.

TRIBE BREAKS SPELL OF EAST AS RALLY SINKS RED SOX, 12-11

Brandt Loses First Game in Nine Starts as Phillie Bats Connect.

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer.

The Giants took a severe setback in the opening game of their "crucial" series with the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday and have few hopes of capturing first place unaided.

The Cards won the opener by a 4 to 3 count in a tight duel between Burleigh Grimes and Fred Fitzsimmons and placed themselves 2½ games ahead of their rivals. The Giants must win three straight to leave St. Louis in the lead. Grimes, capturing his seventh straight game drove in the winning run himself with a timely seventh inning single.

But if they escape trouble in their current series the Cardinals must face Brooklyn, Boston and Philadelphia in succession and all three are fighting for first division berths. The Robins climbed into a tie with the Braves for fourth place yesterday as they rallied in the ninth inning to beat the Chicago Cubs 7 to 6.

The Braves succumbed to Pittsbrugh 4 to 2 as Ed Brandt, who had won eight successive games, finally met defeat. Brandt had two out in the ninth when Bill Regan drove Fred Bennett home with the winning run. The Phillies had a comparatively easy victory over Cincinnati as Chuck Klein pounded out his twelfth and thirteenth homers of the season. The Reds had 16 men left on base.

Cleveland finally broke the spell the eastern clubs of the American league had held over them as they piled up eight runs in the sixth and then staggered through to a 12-11 victory while the Boston Red Sox scored five times in the ninth. It was Cleveland's eighth straight victory.

Philadelphia and Washington, the other big winners of the circuit came through in their usual form. Bing Miller's sixth inning homer with one on base and Rube Walberg's four-hit of the day gave the Athletics a 3 to 2 victory over Chicago. Carl Fischer, young Washington hurler, was hit freely but pitched a good game and the Senators beat the Detroit Tigers 5 to 3. Fischer rang up six strikeouts.

The New York Yankees continued their pursuit of Washington by trouncing the St. Louis Browns 9 to 2. Lefty Gomez checked all his rivals except Melillo, who hit four times, while the Yanks piled up 12 hits at timely moments.

Columbus Slips to Third Place as Louisville Wins

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, June 3—Clyde Hatter's trusty left arm has shoved the championship Louisville Colonels back into second place in the American Association pennant derby.

Called upon to stop the Columbus Red Birds yesterday, Hatter started and finished the job so masterfully that he allowed but three hits while his mates bunched a scant five off Chapman and Baker along with seven bases on balls and won the game 4 to 1. The victory put the Colonels one step ahead of the Red Birds in second place.

The one Columbus run was a home run by Swanson.

St. Paul kept the pace for the first place by batting out a 12 to 3 victory over Kansas City. Extra base clouting turned the trick for the Saints who turned in six better than one base wallops. Davis, St. Paul outfielder, hit a home run to score three runs.

Toledo crept up on the fourth place Milwaukee Brewers by defeating Indianapolis, 3 to 2, in a 10-inning night game at Indianapolis.

Minneapolis and Milwaukee were already to play their games yesterday but just as they announced their batteries a rain storm came along and chased the game back into the realm of postponements.

"Dizzy" To Wed at Ball Park

By The Associated Press

HOUSTON, Tex., June 3—Jerome "Dizzy" Dean, 21-year-old pitching star of the Houston Buffs of the Texas league, has announced plans to be married in the stadium here Monday night.

Ratification depends upon Miss Patricia Nash of Houston, vivacious brunette and an ardent baseball fan. Dean filed notice yesterday of their intention to wed.

The Buffs will entertain the Beaumont Exporters in a double header Monday night. Women will be admitted free with the extra attraction of Dean getting married at the home plate. Club officers said they expected the double header would draw more than 15,000 fans. Dean probably will pitch the second game of the bill.

The pitcher consented to marry in the ball park at the request of friends. Whether Miss Nash will agree has not been determined.

STOCKS RESIST EARLY SALES

Tone of Market Improves as Shares Quickly Rally; Short Selling Covered.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK June 3—The stock market's spirits improved measurably today. Although some further liquidation had to be absorbed after a strong early advance, prices quickly rallied again when this pressure was lifted.

Leading shares had shown much better resistance yesterday and their refusal to yield much more than the gains of the opening rally this forenoon indicated one of those oversold positions out of which shorts hasten to scramble. The day's news was mixed in character, so that the market seemed to be influenced chiefly by its own internal position.

Gains of a couple of points or more developed in leading shares generally, including U. S. Steel, American Telephone, Borden, New York Central, Atchison, Union Pacific, Westinghouse, Allied Chemical, Corn Products and the American Tobaccos. Rock Island rallied after the reduced dividend had been announced, while the 7 per cent preferred on which the regular rate was declared, recovered briskly.

Weakness in specialties was unsettling for a time, but Eastman Kodak, Coca Cola, Case, Lambert and Industrial Rayon reduced or erased losses of 3 to 4 points. Oils had an early rally on the Socony-Vacuum merger news but then settled back.

Today in Marion Markets

Groceries, Produce, Meat, Grain, Livestock

A further drop in new potatoes was announced by dealers today when a price of from 35 to 50 cents a peck was asked a drop of five cents on the low price and 10 cents on the higher price. A continued heavy supply with a demand below normal is given as the reason for the continued low price. Other vegetable prices were steady with large supplies of all seasonable varieties.

New peas and beans were plentiful today and were selling readily at 15 and 18 cents a pound. Home grown asparagus continues plentiful and dealers are asking 10 cents a bunch.

California plums and apricots have made their appearance on local markets and are selling at 25 cents a pound. Pineapples for canning are being featured by dealers and varied prices depending upon the size are being asked. In less than canning lots prices of from 18 to 25 cents are being asked. This week will see the peak of the pineapple season dealers say. Kentucky strawberries are replacing Tennessee varieties on the markets and are selling at from 20 to 30 cents a quart. Southern Ohio berries will be on the market the latter part of next week, dealers say.

WHEAT PRICES IN DOWNTURN

Reports of Rain in Canada Has Depressing Effect; Corn Higher.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, June 3—Wheat averaged lower and corn higher early today. Wheat was responsive to showers reported in Canadian districts affected by drouth. Iowa reports said corn in the northwest section of the state was without moisture reserve. Opening ¾@⅞ cents lower, wheat afterward rallied. Corn started unchanged to ¼ off and subsequently advanced.

Severe downturns of quotations for June wheat contracts at Minneapolis and Duluth suddenly turned trade attention away from Canadian crop damage prospects. Eight cents a bushel break in June wheat was shown at Minneapolis and 10 cents at Duluth. Reports in Chicago indicated that farm board allies had ceased buying old crop wheat, and that belated holders were without a government sponsored outlet. June wheat in Chicago quickly dropped 2¼ cents. Bearish estimates of new winter wheat yields in Texas tended also to weaken prices.

Transient rallies in which prices earlier had resulted from Canadian reports that crops throughout southern and central Saskatchewan were at a state where adequate general rains must be had at once or wheat would be a total loss in many districts. Some of the Canadian crop was asserted to be beyond repair now. It is said that wheat conditions over so large a territory in Canada were never worse. A Chicago crop authority estimated that Canadian wheat acreage had been cut 11 per cent.

Corn and oats weakened when wheat prices turned downgrade.

Provisions held about steady.

like that would be sufficient to win the game. However a triple two doubles and three singles wiped out that one run lead and transformed the lead to the Calvary bunch and set the pitch down for the second defeat of the season. The final score of the game was 7-4.

Baptists in Close Win

Trinity Baptist retains its perch on top of the league heap yesterday by taking a well played 2-0 battle from the Epworth Bishops. The game was a hurlers duel from the start between Hap Applegett of the Baptists and Ellis Mantz of the Bishops Applegett gets credit for the victory and Mantz gets the sympathy. Both hurled an excellent game.

Applegett gave up but a single hit on the seven innings while Mantz was nicked for six safeties. Exactly 21 men faced Applegett in seven innings. George Hinklin got the only hit for the Bishops and would have spoiled the one-two-three out form of Applegett but he left the base and was called out.

Clark Loses Again

John Clark shifted his lineup around yesterday in a futile effort to turn in his first victory of the season but today he is no better off than before. Lee Street is the latest team to give the Epworth No. 1 club a beating. The Presbyterians accomplished it.

The Lutherans again demonstrated that they are perhaps stronger than generally conceded when they jumped on Ryan Cox for five runs to defeat the Epworth Seniors 5-2. The winners scored three of their runs in the final frame after rallying most of the game.

sweep through with four to six firsts and land enough point winners to score at least 40 points. Victories were anticipated for the Men of Troy in the 100-yard dash, 440-yard run, the pole vault, broad jump, discus throw, javelin and possibly the shot put.

Most guessing revolved about the individual performances, notably the 100-yard dash in which Frank Wykoff of the Trojans will attempt to repeat his triumph of a year ago. While Wykoff won't have to face George Simpson, the Ohio flyer again this year he will be faced with plenty of competition by a field of 11 stars of great reputation. Eddie Tolan, Michigan's midnight express will finish his brilliant competition for Michigan at the meet and is fired with the ambition not only to beat Wykoff but to equal or better the Trojan's world's record of 9.4. Tolan runs best on a steaming hot day and is hoping for plenty of heat when he faces Wykoff for the last time in a college meet.

Other contenders for Wykoff's crown in the "battle of the century" Saturday will be Ed Toppino of Loyola university, New Orleans, who finished third to Wykoff in the event last year here, Glass of Oklahoma A. & M., who defeated Tolan at the Drake relays in a big upset, and Paul Swift, Washington State sophomore, who captured the century at the Kansas relays this spring.

Democrats Expected To Accept Tariff as Issue

Prediction Made by Chairman Shouse in Commenting on Situation Following Rate Boosts in Canada.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 3—Acceptance by the Democratic party of the Smoot-Hawley tariff act as a definite issue in the 1932 campaign appeared likely today as administration officials continued silent on the new Canadian tariff increases.

Chairman Jouett Shouse of the Democratic national executive committee predicted his party would accept tariff as an issue in charging the administration with responsibility for "prolonging the business depression through the Smoot-Hawley act."

Sees Exports Decreased

In a fromal statement, Shouse said American exports to Canada had been sharply curtailed since enactment of the measure and added:

"Canada's latest tariff increases on goods imported from the United States is one more blow to our industries already suffering from the ruination of our foreign markets by the Smoot Hawley tariff.

"The administration could not have inflicted greater punishment on American business had it deliberately sought to alienate our best customer."

Asserting the Republicans were to take a stand in next year's campaign on the act, Shouse said his party would "gladly accept the challenge."

Answers Harrison

While state department officials awaited a report on the Canadian increases from Minister MacNider, Senator Goldsborough of Maryland in a statement through the Republican national committee, assailed Senator Harrison of Mississippi on his tariff stand.

Goldsborough charged that in a statement through the Democratic national committee, Harrison ignores a contrary assertion of Prime Minister Bennett" that the Canadian tariff increases "are by way of retaliation against the American tariff act."

He charged Harrison supported certain increases in the tariff bill and declared the southerner was ready to kill it "unless he obtained a duty of six cents a pound on Mississippi long staple cotton."

Senator Harrison said through the national committee that "Canada's action will further affect legitimate American industry" and Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin, Republican progressive, joined him in labelling the action a reprisal.
